Dedication

DEDICATION

OUR PARENTS! What do they mean to us? To them we owe the benefit of life, the care which they gave us in our tender years, the blessing of an education which they have made possible for us.

Our thanks go to our parents for their constant guidance and for their kind advice in seeing us through our troubles and mishaps with never-failing patience and understanding. They have been our councillors in our dark and doubting moments, never despairing at our new and ingenious methods of creating mischief. Their kind disciplining has played a major rôle in shaping our characters and in developing our personalities. Through all our anxieties, they have been our ever-loving protectors.

We should show deep gratitude to our parents for all that they have done for us. In spite of our failings, they have stood beside us, often at the price of great sacrifice.

With this closing thought, "CAN WE REPAY OUR PARENTS FOR WHAT THEY HAVE DONE?" I would like to dedicate to them this issue of "AURORA".

BRINEBALE'S MESSAGE

Fortunately, the great majority of our young people seem eager and willing to seize the many opportunities to improve themselves and to secure a sound education. However, to those who seem to lack drive, who are lukewarm or even indifferent, I should like to pose some questions. Have you really ever made a serious effort to select a goal in life? Do you ever consider how you will spend those long years after you leave school? Do you see any real connection between what you learn in school and the vocation in which you will make your living? Possibly you come to school because of pressure from your parents, or from force of habit.

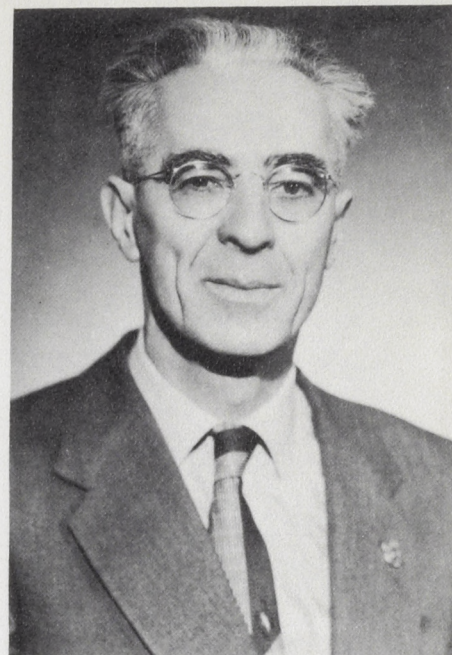

If this is the situation, you are much like a scrap of paper at the mercy of vagrant winds or a piece of wood which drifts with the tides. You lack purpose, a sense of direction.

Now a word of encouragement. Frequently students who for years have been merely going through the motions suddenly appear to awaken, especially during the second and third years of highschool. The grip of lazy work habits is very strong, yet some students have been able to rid themselves of their shackles and turn out reasonably good work. I suspect in many cases the person begins to grow up, takes a more mature view of the workaday world, and decides that a sound education is indeed a good investment.

Select a goal in life, and then take the proper steps to achieve it !

W. J. Brinebale

A Message From our Superintendent of Schools

This year's Aurora makes its appearance in an atmosphere of development and change. When your Editor's invitation to write a few lines reached me, I had just read a newspaper article in which the prediction is made that St. Albert will grow into "a modern metropolitan satellite with a population of twenty to twenty five thousand persons". One cannot read such reports without wondering what the effects of this development will be upon the lives of the boys and girls now in your school.

Last year, on the Dedication page, the Editor stated that "The expansion of the Town and the School makes us look, not only into the future, but also into the past". I should like to express the hope that St. Albert students will cultivate this habit of retrospection. In a time of rapid expansion, such as your community is now entering, it is easy, especially for young people, to become so engrossed with plans for the future that no time is left for thoughts of the past. This, I think, is always regrettable. But in a community such as yours, whose history contains so many examples of simple, God-fearing heroism, the effects could be disastrous.

What sort of place will the future St. Albert be? Will it be a community in which the solid virtues of faith and labour which characterized its founders still predominate? Or will these virtues be submerged by the materialism which, alas, so often accompanies the so-called progress of modern civilization? The students whose names appear in this issue of Aurora may well have important parts to play in deciding the answers to these questions.

In his message of 1957, Father Tardif wrote, "Not only have you to walk in the footsteps of the pioneers, but you have also to surpass them, to set your goal higher.....". This is a tremendous challenge. In your endeavours to meet it, do not neglect the inspirations of the past. If you look closely enough, you will find there truths and values which will carry you safely through all the vicissitudes of the future.

A Message from Father Cardif o.m.i.

Another term, another graduation, another yearbook, another thought! The Yearbook is dedicated to your parents. How they deserve it!

We begin to understand our parents when we are grown up; then it is too late to avoid our sorrow for years of thoughtlessness. This you don't understand. You will in thirty or forty years when your own burning tears, your destroying worries your flaming pride in your children will have taught you the cost of bringing a child to adulthood with little co-operation, little gratitude, and little love from him.

It will be too late then for your parents to enjoy the fruit of their devotion and too early for you to reap in total joy the result of the efforts given to make of your children the honest citizens, the strong Christians you wanted them to be; not always will the success be all that was hoped for.

Good parents are the greatest gift of God. Not understanding them is a weakness of the intelligence, not co-operating with them a softness of the will, not loving them a paralysis of the heart, not profiting by their advice, their care, their sane ambition for your betterment is a waste of the grace of God.

How many, even amongst the best are deeply grieved for not having made the most of the treasure of wisdom, the wealth of attention showered upon them by their parents! Now that age has taught them to know better, they would like to make up for their neglect, their rebellions, their indifference, but it is too late: the father whose hand they wish to press, the mother they would love to hold in their arms, is gone forever. All that remains is the wound in the heart of the thoughtless children; they themselves are the cause of their own sorrow.

Don't sow regrets for the future; love your parents and tell them that you love them and prove it by greater attention to their wishes, by a steady exertion in your work, by trying to live up to their dreams for you.

It takes so little to fill the parents' begging hearts with joy! Do not refuse it. Pay them, in part, your immense debt of gratitude.

Amie Cardif

A MESSAGE FROM

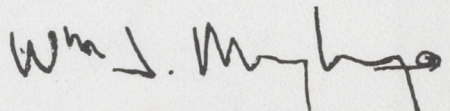

MR. MAYBERRY

Dear Friends:

With the passing of another school year you must, no doubt, find yourselves pondering reminiscently upon things past; memories pleasant, others embarrassing, challenges faced, and challenges evaded; achievements won, and disappointments endured. It is not unhealthy to look backwards. Sometimes it is in so doing that we are able to see ourselves more clearly, recognizing both our capabilities and our limitations. Observing yourselves in retrospect you may all reach the common conclusion that you are better equipped to meet the coming year than you were to meet the past one. This is the hope and prayer of your senior partners in this community.

An even greater legacy resulting from thoughts directed to the past is the motivation--ever coercive--to look ahead. Those of you who are graduating particularly must experience this inspiration. Is it presumptuous to feel that until now you have, for the most part, been on the receiving end of the gifts of knowledge, lessons of experience, concern, consideration, and love? I do not think so. And these gifts, as all of life, are not to be stored away and treasured. They are to be nurtured, multiplied and propagated amongst your fellow men. "To whom much is given of him will much be required". (Luke XII: 48)

May I echo the hopes of your Valedictorian of last year. May you meet this challenge of sharing all the talents you possess as responsible citizens and dedicated Christians.

Student Minister,
St. Albert United Church

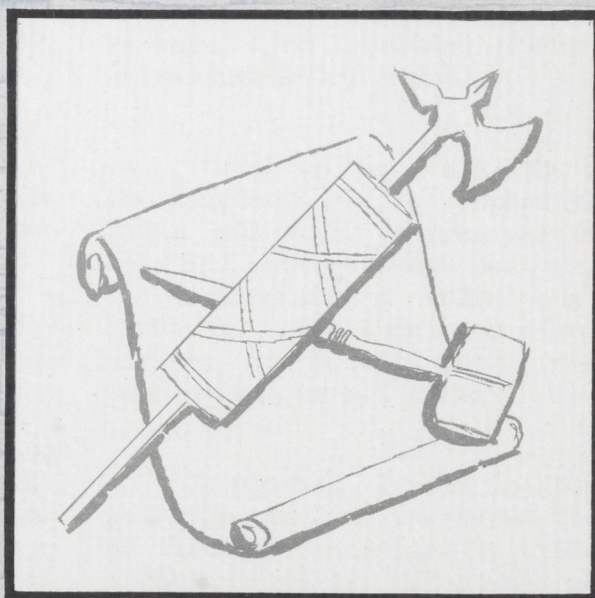

In a letter to the Editor, Mr. Mayberry makes the following comment:

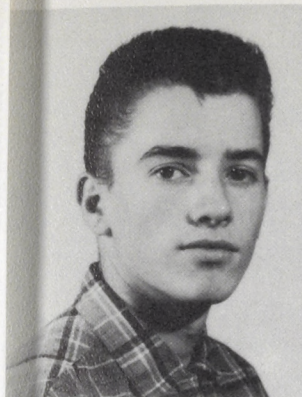

Dear Edward:

I am enclosing a brief message for your Yearbook. Thank you for the opportunity of addressing a few words to the students of St. Albert.

I am sorry that I do not have a suitable photograph to enclose. I am sure the students will not feel seriously deprived!

THE EDITORS

Holding the position of Yearbook editor has seen some of the happiest moments of the year. A person gets a great feeling of accomplishment at looking through the layouts which he has helped to perfect. Not only has this work been a pleasure to me, but it has given me valuable experience which I could not have obtained elsewhere or otherwise.

My appreciation goes to my co-editor, Reginald La Rocque; to our photographer, Harold Cuts; to our treasurer, Claire Leonard; to our ads solicitors, Louise Comeau, Melba McDonald, Simonne Lafranchise, Lorraine MacMillan, and Edmund Bunyan; to our typists, Sister Piquette, Bernadette Quimet, Phyllis Soetaert, and Doreen Veness; to our artists Sister St. Germain, Sister Gaumont, Nowell Hinch, and Fred Richardson; to Bob Burton for the errands he ran for us.

A special word of gratitude and praise goes to Sister Côté, for, without her help and direction, we would have been bogged down from the very beginning.

Mr. Maloney, our principal, deserves our thanks for all his wholehearted encouragement.

For the opportunity that they have given me, I would like to forward my heartfelt thanks to the student body of St. Albert High School. The best way in which I can do this is to offer them this issue of "AURORA".

When September of 1957 came, I had never dreamed that I was to be the co-editor of our yearbook, "AURORA". Little did I realize at first what a fund of interest such a position has for a student. Working at the yearbook has become one of my main interests. Although there was some exacting work, there was always a great deal of fun to be derived in seeing the yearbook grow to maturity.

It has been the ambition of the whole yearbook staff this year, to make the yearbook bigger and better. Bigger it certainly is, and we hope it is better. The inclusion of more pictures of the elementary and junior high school grades should broaden its appeal. The parents and students, we feel assured, will find this innovation interesting. We have also included pictures of many extra-curricular events.

I wish to thank all the members of the yearbook staff, especially Sister Cote, our staff representative, whose help and encouragement were the means of our issuing such a voluminous publication. My gratitude goes also to Edward Martyna, our Editor, whose resourcefulness helped us all along.

In closing, I wish to thank all the students who have purchased this edition of "AURORA" and hope it will bring you a great deal of enjoyment now and in future years.

OUR PRESIDENTS

ROBERT BURTON
FIRST TERM

CHARLES HESSE
SECOND TERM

I would like to thank the student body for their confidence in me as was shown when they elected me president of the Students' Union for the first term. It was an honor and a privilege to serve with them, and their co-operation was appreciated.

The first part of the year was busy as far as activities were concerned. The initiation was a successful event which was enjoyed by all, even by the error-stricken but sportsmanlike Freshmen. On initiation night a dance was held in honor of the Grade Tens. We also held a kangaroo court in which many were persecuted to the full extent of the law.

Before the Christmas vacation we had a sock-hop and an exchange of gifts. The Grade Nine students participated in this and shared our fun.

I would like to thank Mrs. Blair, our staff representative, for her help and guidance. I would also like to thank the members of the first-term executive and the student body for their excellent co-operation.

Bob Burton

President,

First Term

We are quickly approaching the termination of another school year. Some of us will return to the grindstone next year again, while others will be leaving to fulfil the tasks they have outlined for themselves. I truly hope that we choose the right vocation when our turn comes to face the world.

One of the important features of the Students' Union meetings during this term comprised series of slides shown to us by four different people: Brother Bonaventure, professor of History at the University of Alberta, Mrs. Miciak, one of our Grade IX teachers, Miss Wolniewicz one of our Grade I teachers, and Harold Cuts, a Grade X student. We enjoyed seeing these slides as they made us wander with these people through Europe and through the United States.

I should like to thank Mrs. Blair for her expert guidance of the Students' Union.

To the whole student body, a hearty "Thank you" for the co-operation shown. It was a pleasure to be president during this second term.

Principal

Mr. Maloney has been our Principal since September, 1954. With the growth of our school, the building program, and the consequent increase in administration, he has been kept very busy during the past four years. However, he has shown that he is equal to the task, and has given proofs of being a capable administrator.

Besides performing his administrative duties, Mr. Maloney finds time to teach two subjects: Social Studies 30 and Psychology 20.

Mr. V. J. Maloney

Vice-Principal

Mr. Raboud has been Vice-Principal of St. Albert School since September, 1948. His task is to assist the principal with the administration of the school from Grades I to XII. He is in charge of registers, attendance reports, correspondence, and supplies.

He is, besides, a full-time teacher, offering in Grade XII, Biology 32 and French 30; in Grade XI, French 20, Language 20, Social Studies 20; and in Grade X, Language 10. He is the Grade XI home-room teacher.

Mr. G. Raboud

Assistant Principal

Since September, 1956, Mr. Soprovich has been our Assistant-Principal, his role being to help the principal with the administration from Grades VII to XII. He is also in charge of sports and physical education, offering the latter course to the boys of Grade IX and to the boys and girls of Grade X.

Apart from all this, Mr. Soprovich teaches the following subjects: in Grade XII, Chemistry 30 and Physics 30; in Grade XI, Science 20 and Mathematics 21; in Grade X, Science 10. Mr. Soprovich is the Grade X A teacher.

GRADE 12

When we are older, we shall look back
 To the things we did and the things we lacked,
 And the memories which we shall hold most dear
 Are the ones involving our senior year.
 We shall think of our friends and teachers all
 And wonder what was their duty call.
 But glancing ahead now with hopeful looks,
 To the day we at last lay aside our books,
 Would it hurt to guess how the students hoped,
 Then in fifteen years see how close we groped?
 The grade twelve room was a jovial thing,
 And we really enjoyed our one last fling,
 In June we left the dear old school
 To face new people and a brand new rule.
 ANNE MARIE BLAIR heads for higher halls,
 To the teaching profession her talent calls;
 She'll be a success in her chosen life;
 May the Lord grant her peace and never strife.
 MARION BOKENFOHR works hard at school,
 Her main theme in life is the golden rule.
 She's clever with figures, and as you may guess,
 Of Chartered Accountants she'll rank with the best.
 ROBERT BURTON, a world of fun,
 Keeps everyone laughing, misses never a one;
 His plans for the future at the moment are hazy;
 He's sure to succeed, for our Bob's never lazy.
 SISTER GAUMONT is the favorite of all;
 In music and art her gifts are not small;
 We often envy her talent with pen,
 And hope she'll remember us now and then.
 Of all our class, only one young girl
 Kept quiet while all were having their whirl;
 JOAN MacDONALD, our dark-haired lass
 Will always to others bring happiness.

GRADE 12

FLORENCE MORIN, our happy gal
Is always such a cheerful pal;
The nursing profession will get our Flo;
She'll always be needed and liked, we know.
BARBARA ONISCHUK heads with her books
To the school that teaches the best of cooks;
Home Economics will be her goal,
May she ever find it a pleasant dole.
SISTER PIQUETTE is a good friend to all;
She has a big heart, though she's not very tall.
We'll all miss our Sister with the happy smile
And think often of her in the next great mile.
WINNONA ROGERS is our poetess dear,
In English and math her thinking is clear.
To be a doctor is her great ambition;
To work for that goal she has the volition.
Piano and voice are CAMERON ROSS' interests,
He's clever in school, never failing his tests;
He also for university will be headed,
And greet the new life which others have dreaded.
SISTER ST. GERMAIN is a whiz in math,
In physics she always is on the right path.
She is friendly and charming to one and all,
In life, may she respond to her call.
That was our class, a small one indeed,
But quality made up for quantity's need.
We'll miss our teachers and comrades all.
In the years to come we shall all recall
The joys, the sorrows, the heartaches, and tears,
But they'll make good memories in future years.
Thanks to all who have helped us along;
The remembrance of them will always be strong.

GRADE XI

In Grade Eleven we are twenty-seven
 Who love to work and play;
 There's ELVIN BEANGE the fun to leaven
 And ROSANNA BERUBE so gay.
 VALERIE BELLISSIE is ever so studious
 And ALBERT BONNEVILLE so staid,
 GERARD BRODEUR of study is dubious
 But ROLAND BURTON a tribute has paid
 To books and learning due.
 Among the workers is LOUISE COMEAU
 And EDMOND CONSTANTIN too;
 EDWARD CUNNINGHAM adheres to the motto:
 "Do and don't undo".
 FENNY FLESHER of typing is fond
 And RUBY FRASER of Math,
 Our CHARLES HESSE likes to respond,
 And NOWELL HINCH a chuckle hath.
 JOSEPH CALIHOO is a boy of parts
 And DAVID ISEKE is too;
 BRUCE KLOOSTERMAN is one who starts
 And finishes on time.
 IRENE LAFRANCHISE is a jolly minion,
 CLAIRE LEONARD in tests can climb,
 EDWARD MARTYNA always has an opinion,
 FRANK McDONALD is on time.
 From MELBA McDONALD fun gushes in oceans;
 But BERNADETTE OUMET
 Has a sense of duty that alters the notions
 Of any inclined to forget.
 ESTELLE RICHARD is a chubby lass
 And LARRY SAVOIE is a worker,
 PHYLLIS SOETAERT is determined to pass,
 and DORLEN VENESS is no shirker;
 RENE VICTOOR is the last on the list
 But not the least of all.
 So, you see, dear friends, how we are blest
 With a class beyond recall.

SR. M. LETOURNEAU
R. N.

Sister Marguerite Létourneau graduated from St. Albert High School in 1953.

She then went to St. Paul's Hospital, Saskatoon, where she obtained her R. N. in 1956.

Sister Létourneau is now taking post-graduate work in Montreal. She will soon be back to the city with her B. Sc. in Nursing.

LYNNE SUMNER
A. R. C. T.

In June, 1957, Lynne Sumner, who left St. Albert in 1956 to live in Regina, took the music examination which gave her the degree Associate of the Royal Conservatory of Toronto. She passed with honors.

This year Lynne plays the piano in the Luther College school orchestra. She will graduate from high school in June.

JOHN BOCOCK
B. Sc. Agriculture

John Bocock, one of our graduates of 1952, obtained, in May, 1957, from the University of Alberta, degree Bachelor of Science in Agriculture.

John says that he is now a dirt farmer, maintaining that, in spite of what is said about the desperate plight of the farmers, they are not sunk. He says further that the intelligent use of a little horse sense and motor power will keep agriculture as vibrant as the "Queen Mary".

Grade Four C

1900-1901

1. The first part of the year was spent in the study of the history of the United States. The students learned about the early settlers, the Revolutionary War, and the growth of the nation. They also studied the lives of some of the great men of the country, such as George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, and Benjamin Franklin.

2. In the second part of the year, the students learned about the geography of the United States. They studied the different regions of the country, the major rivers, and the different climates. They also learned about the different kinds of plants and animals that live in the United States.

3. In the third part of the year, the students learned about the government of the United States. They studied the Constitution, the different branches of the government, and the rights of the citizens. They also learned about the different kinds of laws that are made in the United States.

4. In the fourth part of the year, the students learned about the different kinds of people who live in the United States. They studied the different races, the different religions, and the different customs. They also learned about the different kinds of jobs that people do in the United States.

5. In the fifth part of the year, the students learned about the different kinds of things that are made in the United States. They studied the different kinds of farms, the different kinds of factories, and the different kinds of mines. They also learned about the different kinds of transportation that are used in the United States.

Sports

With the prospect of an eventful year, we re-organized the Sports Council under the direction of Mr. Soprovich. Those elected were: President, Charles Hesse, and Secretary, Louise Comeau. The representatives were: Football, Regnina La Rocque; Basketball, Marilyn Vague and Adam Hauptman; Curling, Joan MacDonald; Badminton, Estelle Richard.

The 1957 Badminton Tournament gave St. Albert the VENESS TROPHY. The teams participating were: Namao, Legal, and St. Albert. Trophy winners were: Edward Martyna and Adam Hauptman in the boys' double event; Louise Comeau and Allan Maloney in mixed doubles; and Estelle Richard and Madeleine Morin in the Girls' double event.

With the opening of school in September, we gave football a try. Compliments to the boys who did their best but were defeated twice by Namao and by Horsehill.

For winter sports, basketball held the high-lights with curling and badminton. With Mr. Soprovich's tremendous enthusiasm, basketball was the most cherished sport of the season. It took us through inter-school games, tournaments, the A. A. S. A. provincial playoffs, and the girls' inter-school games. They chalked up ten wins and two losses against Redwater, Stony Plain, Westlock, Fort Saskatchewan, Scena High, Legal, Rivière-qui-Barre, and St. Albert Alumni.

Tournament day, February 22, brought girls from Legal, Westlock, Salisbury, and Redwater to the St. Albert School gym. Salisbury claimed the MICIAK TROPHY. Runners-up were St. Albert and Redwater. Camrose was the scene of the A. A. S. A. provincial playoffs, on March 14-15. Our girls were triumphant over Camrose Lutheran College, but met defeat in their second and third games with Red Deer.

For the boys' inter-school games, they were victorious five out of ten games with Westlock, Fort Saskatchewan, Legal, Rivière-qui-Barre, Redwater, Indian Residential School, and St. Albert Alumni. The MELECHKO TROPHY was taken by Redwater on tournament day, with Legal and Westlock in second and third places.

Twenty-eight lassies and laddies gave push to the stone and broom. Every Tuesday and Thursday Mr. Raboud supervised the ardent curlers. The rink skipped by Adam Hauptman claimed the BLAIR-SCHULTZ TROPHY for the seven-rink square draw. The St. Albert School open bonspiel gave the Charles Hesse rink the Grand Challenge and Cameron Ross took the merchants' event. In the St. Albert-and-District open bonspiel, Namao entered its curlers. This event gave the Adam Hauptman rink the Grand Challenge and Joan MacDonald the Second Event. The Charles Hesse rink with Cameron Ross, Joan MacDonald, and David Iseke, entered the Redwater Bonspiel, but returned home defeated.

The success of this sports year is due to our coaches, Mr. Soprovich and Mr. Raboud, whom we wish to thank.

BASKETBALL SONG

First you put your centres close up tight,
Then you dribble to the left and then to the right
Walk around the floor kind of nice and light,
And then you fake a pass, make a pass with all your might,
Spread your loving arms way out in space,
Then you do a little blocking with such style and grace;
You put your centres out and give the call,
That's what we call hoopin' the ball.
A ratchin' a scratchin', a hoopin' the ball!

WHY?

Why did the good Lord plan my birth?
Why did He put me upon this earth?
Why do I answer His frequent call?
Why did He artfully plan the fall
To succeed the winter's chilly cold?
Why does everyone have to grow old?
Why does He watch over the helpless ones?
Why did He carefully place the sun
In the same old place through every day?
Or is that just His special way?

Why did the Lord give me eyes to see
All of His beauties from grass to tree?
Why is there spring time for the flowers?
And why is there April for the showers?
Why does the sun come out after rain?
Why does the grass dry off again?
Why did He make the stars so bright
To glimmer and shine through the darkest night?
Why are the grass and trees so green?
The loveliest colors that I have seen.

Why does He cover the ground with snow?
Why does He help things start to grow?
Why does He make us as we are?
I'm sure that we could be different by far.
Why is there conflict, wars, and strife?
Why do some want to take a life?
Why are some bad while others are good?
Why do they not do as they should?
Why are some white while others are brown?
Why does He never let us fall down?

What is there that makes life seem worth-while?
How do you turn a frown into a smile?
How do we know the passage of time?
How am I able to make this rhyme?
Why have you a body, and brains in your head?
Where do you go when at last you are dead?
What are we doing and why are we here?
Why do we stay here year after year?
And tho' I've asked many who don't have a clue
I'm sure I could ask the same thing of you.

Class Poems

"STAR OF THE NORTH"

Not a sparkling star in the Milky Way,
But yet a star shining night and day;
To a great many souls it has served as guide
To find their path to the other Side.

When days are grey and in vain you try
To go your way with your head held high;
For the light of peace for which you look forth,
Why not head straight for the "Star of the North"?

There your soul will find in a good retreat
Contentment sweet, which will be a treat.
And to all your friends you'll be glad to say
That the "Star of the North" has brightened your way.
Sister Lorraine Piquette -- XII

WINTER PRELUDE

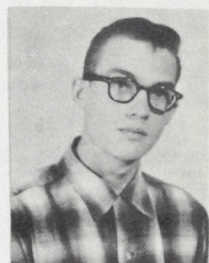

Snow fell today.
Sifting drowsily from sky it came,
Silently and without warning,
To sleep on naked tree and faded earth.

Tree shimmered in her ermine coat,
And gave to passer-by a haughty glance,
While tiny diamonds from her garment fell
To earth to join their kin.

And brook had lost her youthful voice,
For gurgling words had since been squelched
By knife-like cold
Invisible.

And all the land lay still in virgin white,
While here and there
A tiny root peeped out to see
The work of Winter's hand.

Cameron Ross -- XII

HOME AT LAST

To travel far was the one lone wish
I harboured all year long.
I went away, but somehow still
Life was not all a song.

The city sights were strange to me,
The country fields unknown;
Once gone, I seemed to long for home,
For home, where all things were my own.
Anne Marie Blair -- XII

LIMERICK

Our class was the smallest in town,
A crowd that knew not how to frown;
At times we were lazy
To drive teachers crazy,
But never did they let us down.

Barbara Onischuk--XII

JACK FROST

Jack Frost came last night
With his breath hoary white
To paint on a canvas of glass
Scenes that a painter cannot surpass.

His frosty hand paints in perspective;
Nature is definitely his objective,
For on my window He has made
White lacy designs inlaid.

Joan MacDoanld--XII

LIMERICK

At times we would all get a whim
And just make a dash for the gym;
We'd play with such din
Or watch a team win,
But always we acted with vim.

Marion Bokenfohr--XII

CITY LIGHTS AT NIGHT

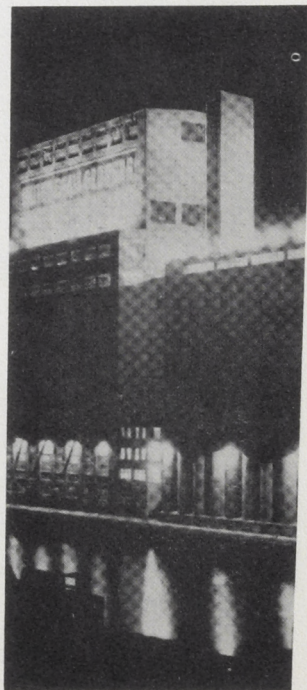

Have you ever admired the city at night?
For my part, I did so and enjoyed such a sight.
From the hill, you should see the reflection of light
In the stream that flows past. Oh, what a delight!

Those wee stars that appear one by one in the dark
From the windows of mansions lined up near the park,
Faintly twinkle like fireflies sending their sparks
All night long, when they play with those glittering marks.

Once I saw a small casket of gems very nice,
And was told that this treasure was worth a high price;
City lights, brilliant pearls strung on black, look like dice
That the player casts, hoping much from the device.

If you travel by night, you will notice the glare
Made against the low clouds, cause a glimmering flare
To refract in the sky. That is why I now dare
Pause a moment to write on such beauties so rare.

Sister Raymonde St. Germain--XII

Christopher Columbus

Christopher Columbus was another boy blue,
 Always daydreaming, thinking what to do.
 "When I grow up, I'll sail out to sea,
 And India I'll find, you just wait and see!"
 But when the time finally came,
 Not a soul agreed to help.
 So he went to Queen Isabella,
 Who understood the way he felt.
 She gave him a ship and sailors,
 And they started out to sea.
 But on the third day of sailing,
 They were as lonesome as could be.
 Out a mutiny almost broke
 But he kept as calm as he could.
 Kind and gentle were the words he spoke,
 And they calmed down as he thought they would.
 Suddenly like a huge lamp in the sky,
 The heavens that night the moon did light.
 And not far away Columbus did spy,
 A small dim light, that was not very bright.
 He called to the others and said, "What do you see?"
 "A light!" they all shouted, over-filled with glee.
 They rowed to the land and got on their knees.
 And thanked God for guiding them,
 Through the terrible seas.
 They greeted the Indians, one by one.
 And Columbus, gave a smile, to EVERY ONE.

Rita Maloney--VB

At School

At school we have so very much fun,
 Running in the sun.
 We never, never run in school,
 Because we obey our teacher's rule.

It's exciting when Friday draws near,
 Because on that day we can paint;
 To fail in Art we do not fear,
 So we all make many things quaint.

Preparing for a spelling test
 Always requires a lot of study;
 Nevertheless we do our best,
 And when we pass, our cheeks are ruddy.

Appreciation

A completed and successful yearbook is due not only to the persons directly involved in its making, but also to many persons who have given us the encouragement and co-operation necessary for its completion.

Our appreciation goes to the businessmen who have given us financial aid without which the yearbook would never have been possible. For their generosity in donating money in excess of the cost of an advertisement, we are grateful to:

VENESS SERVICE STATION
HUDSON BAY COMPANY

COTE & HUNTER REALTY
STURGEON DIESEL AND
AUTO SERVICE

To the teachers of our school, for their co-operation, to the persons who graciously wrote messages, to the students for their contributions and their help, goes a heartfelt "THANK YOU".
